

Games Weekend 6

Saturday April 7 - Games Weekend 6 at the Lodge

And soon another year will have passed and it's time again for the next Games Weekend!! As always, there will be a large collection of games available for folks to try, with both new ones and old favourites in the mix. And of course, the question on everyone's lips: is Mitch the New England Patriots of gaming? How many of these in a row can he win??

There will be a communal dinner on the Saturday night (cost to be shared among the participants and determined once the total numbers are known but anticipate about $15 or so) and the tournament champion is based on participation, with bonuses for actually winning! You don't need to know how to play any of the games -- everything will be thoroughly explained at the start of each one -- you simply have to have a willingness to play!!
